

Kitset Homes a full service

If you're looking at building a new home or making alterations to an existing one, talk to Phil Evans from Kitset Homes.

Don't let the name Kitset fool you - they won't put your ideas in a box. Kitset Homes' wide range of plans and designs are flexible and can be adapted to suit your needs.

Phil has been in the building industry for more than 20 years so he's got the experience, knowledge and comprehensive contact base to assist you with your building project.

From 10 square metre transportable sleep-outs to 300-plus square metre luxury homes, Kitset Homes can complete your entire project, or assist you with part of the process.

"You can be as involved as you want to be," says Phil.

"We can link you up with the right people and assist you to build it yourself, or we can get it to a completed turn-key stage for you."

They can also prepare an your paperwork, a na help you through consent procedures.

Phil says some clients contract Kitset Homes to get their house to a lock-up shell stage, so they can do the rest themselves in their own time. Kitset Homes will give you a quote to suit your requirements.

When you contract Kitset Homes to build for you, their package is comprehensive - right down to details like the door stops.

Kitset Homes is currently building a 65 square metre legal minor dwelling in the yard at Placemakers Whangaparaoa, so you can come down and have a look. Minor dwellings are great if you need to accommodate extended family, or want to rent it out for income.

Kitset Homes specialises in building in remote places, like Great Barrier and Kawau islands, where access is difficult. They can also give your home a makeover, with new cladding, or additions like an extra bedroom, bathroom or rumpus room.

"We've got a lot of strings to our bow - we can build you anything from small homes to luxurious and spectacular homes."

"Our service is completely personalised, and we can customise to what you want."
